Tag Hard Times Before Aju and Kuttan arrived from Bangalore, our group of four had experienced many difficult times. We wanted to prepare for the arrival of the cousins so we decided to spend a holiday at Thiruvananthapuram. We stayed at a resort on the Kerala coast. It was not a very comfortable stay but we enjoyed our stay, especially the beach. We flew back to Bangalore the following morning. It was after the mid-day meal and we were hungry. So we decided to have a snack at the restaurant situated opposite our house. We knew that we would have to pay more as we were staying in a private house. But we had decided to spend a day in Bangalore so we could explore the area. It was not easy to find a place which is not too close to our house. We finally found a place. We decided to go to the nearby office building in search of snacks. The restaurant was situated in the basement. The floor was made of cement and we had to climb two floors to reach the snacks. After a few minutes of browsing we realised that the entire store was closed. We were wondering how to get out of there but we were able to come back home. Back in our house, we were all tired and wanted to relax. We planned to go to the beach for a few hours. After a couple of hours, we decided to go out. After some chatting we all boarded the bus. It was almost 8 pm and the beach was empty.

We decided to go to the beach. It was our first time to go there. It was dark and we could not find any path. It was difficult to find a place to sleep. We found a little hillock and used the footpath. It was very dark and we had no idea where we were going.

We finally reached the beach after some time. We saw some lights on the beach. We did not know where they were but we wanted to go to those lights. Our journey seemed like a challenge. We saw an old man asking for some money. We gave some money and he asked us to board the boat. We boarded the boat and he started to row. We were very scared as we did not know where we were going. He asked us to sleep. We were surprised to know that it was so dark. We could not see the sea as the boat was being propelled by the waves. We were shocked. We were so tired. We fell asleep.
